DAILY KENTUCKIAN

GREAT HOPKINS.
VILLE WANTS YOU.

Established 1879 Vol. XL--Daily Vol. 1. No. 95 HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, JUNE 28, 1918. Price 3 Cents

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Call 449 if you fail to get the Kentuckian promptly. And if you have a news item, phone it to the same number.

It would be awful to cut out beef and have to live for three months on old ham and fried chicken.

Henderson is going to do without beef. But what is a city to do that has no river filled with fish in its back yard?

It is rumored that Grand Duke Michael, a younger brother of the former Czar, has placed himself at the head of the government in Siberia.

The new July call for Kentucky will require 100 or more registrants all white men. There are only 43 of Class A, left but the class will be recruited from reclassifications now in progress and later the new registrants will go to the foot of the class.

The Senate agriculture committee yesterday agreed upon an amendment to the $11,000,000 emergency agricultural appropriation bill providing for national prohibition. It would prohibit the manufacture and sale of whiskey and wine after June 30, 1919, and the manufacture and sale of beer three months after the final approval of the bill by the President.

FOLLOWING THE FLAG

H. W. Ligon, of Atlanta, who has been here on a visit to his mother Mrs. L. I. Hall, left yesterday for Camp Gordon, where he is in the quartermaster department.

Arthur K. Goodwin, who left with one of the recent calls from this county, has been given special duties as airbrakes inspector in Washington and Mrs. Goodwin will soon leave to join him there.

Lieut. Akers, of Oklahoma, was in Hopkinsville yesterday afternoon on his way from Cadiz where he had been visiting his wife's uncle, Judge Hooks, to Camp Sevier, Greenville, S. C. Lieut. Akers, in an interview with a Kentuckian reporter stated that he expects to sail in about two weeks for overseas. He is a member of the Medical Reserve Corps.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Cartwright, of Chattanooga, and J. D. Ragor, of Jackson, Tenn., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Smithson.

Mr. and Mrs. Baylor Hickman and Miss Hickman, of Louisville; John Hurst and Mrs. Austin Peay, of Clarksville; Mrs. H. B. Lyon, of Edinville; and Mrs. Johnson, of Elkton, attended the funeral of Lawson Flack yesterday.

Little Misses Elsie Bartley and Margaret Johnson will leave this morning for Weir, Ky., to spend a week or two with Mrs. F. K. Jamison.

BERNE CONFERENCE

The State Department has made public a note from the Swiss Government consenting to receive invalided American prisoners and intern them until the end of the war. The United States has asked Germany to send representatives to a conference at Berne on Aug. 5 to discuss the treatment and exchange of prisoners.

WHAT BERLIN CLAIMS.

Ship tonnage sunk by German submarines in the month of May amounted to 614,000 gross tons, according to an official statement issued at Berlin. The claim also was made that in addition, badly damaged ships with a tonnage of 36,000 were taken to ports of the entente allies in April besides the losses already announced for that month.

MILITARISM DIES HARD WARRIORS TO TRY AGAIN

FEDERAL CONTROL OF CARS MAY RESULT

(By International News Service.) Washington, D. C., June 27.—Joint Chairmen of the War and Labor Board, William Howard Taft and Frank P. Walsh, are considering recommendations to President Wilson, which probably will result in six-cent street car fares in most cities of the United States and partial control of the municipal traction situation of the Federal Government. The two chairmen have been hearing appeals of car line employees from a score of cities. Companies confessed wages should be increased but pleaded financial inability. President Wilson has the power to take over electric systems.

MUST WORK OR FIGHT

MUST ENGAGE IN USEFUL OCCUPATIONS OR BE PUT IN CLASS ONE.

The Local Board has orders to place all men of draft age who are in class 2, 3, or 4, in class one and draft them into the army unless they are engaged in some useful occupation at this time or who quit the non-essential occupations and engage in useful occupation by July 1st, 1918. The Provost Marshal's order is printed below:

"If this order includes any one whose occupation is mentioned in the following communication who thinks he should not be required to change his business, let him go before some one qualified to administer an oath and make out a sworn statement setting up all the facts and reasons why he should be left at his present job and file with Mrs. Gillock at the office of the Local Board. This board will then consider said statements and notify said party of its decision. It will be a waste of time for all parties concerned if the claim is not well founded as the above orders are very positive and specific. LOCAL EXEMPTION BOARD, C. C., KY."

OBJECT TO SUNDAY BURIALS.

(By International News Service.) Lawrence, Kas., June 28.—Sunday funerals here may soon be a thing of the past. The local ministerial association resolved that the public and the funeral directors be asked not to arrange for any Sunday funerals. They point out that Sunday funerals take up the time of the pastors that should be devoted to other things. The funeral directors, sexton and employees of cemeteries are all compelled to labor seven days and forego one day's rest in seven, they say.

KERENSKY'S ELOQUENCE STIRS LONDON

(By International News Service.) London, June 27.—"I bring information that the Russian people will never recognize the Brest-Litovsk Treaty, which is hurling Russia into an abyss of annihilation." Thunderous cheers went up from a great throng of delegates at today's session of the British Labor Conference, as Alexander Kerensky made this statement from the MWCdmtETT announcement and from that moment he held the audience with him. His magnetic spell drawing ovation after ovation, as he pictured the eventual victory of the allies and of the Russian people against the Bolsheviks, whom he called the German spawn.

IRISH QUESTION TROUBLE-SOME.

Premier Lloyd George told the House of Commons that the need of settling the Irish problem had increased not only in England but that it was a hindrance in the prosecution of the war in the United States. Edward Shortt, Chief Secretary of Ireland, declared that there was no doubt that Germany had a hand in the recent uprising and that the Irish and the Germans were in close touch with each other.

WILSON MAKES STRONG REPLY TO HIS CRITICS

(By International News Service.) Washington, June 27.—President Wilson today made vigorous reply to critics of his administration who charged that his opposing a change in the draft ages was but another display of indiscretion over politics. The desperate shortage of skilled and unskilled labor for the war industries at the present hour is a greater menace to effective war industries preparation than any possible numerical deficiency in fighting men. The President believes the draft age 21 to 31 will yield as many soldiers as can be transported across the seas this year. The official estimated shortage of half a million unskilled laborers exists in this country at the present hour and coal production will be greatly below the needs of the war industries without something is done to increase winter supplies for private consumption.

MRS. BEAUCHAMP COMING.

Mrs. Frances E. Beauchamp, of Lexington and State President of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, will be in Hopkinsville Sunday at which time she will deliver a public address upon the subject of prohibition. Further announcement of this will be made tomorrow.

THE RUSSIAN PROBLEM IS UPPERMOST

(By International News Service.) Washington, June 27.—Following the semi-official announcement yesterday that President Wilson will send a commercial mission to Siberia to be accompanied by an "armed guard" the belief became general today that British and French units will accompany the delegation and that later the Japanese army will aid in sustaining the Nationalists of Russia in their efforts to force Germany's armed interventionists out of Russian territory.

PRINTERS ARE PATRIOTIC

The International Typographical Union on June 27 had 4,810 blue stars in its service flag, and seventy-seven gold stars, indicating members who have given their lives for their country. Besides these men there are 656 apprentices in the service of the Allies, both in the navy and army. The union to date has paid death benefits totaling $2,350. Besides taking an active part in the war the officers of the union are volunteers in the Army for the Preservation of Industrial Peace, an organization to prevent labor troubles for the duration of the war. Members of the union have invested $30,000 in Liberty bonds.

VON KUHLMANN'S HOT SPEECH STIRS UP THE CHIEFTAINS

REGULATION OF STREET CARS

(By International News Service.) Washington, June 27.—Plans for the Federal regulation of the street car service in various cities are rapidly taking form after the deliberation of the National War Labor Board. Following the decision of the Board that the President has full power in the premises. Eventually wages and fares will be regulated.

COLORED CALL MADE FOR 200

BIGGEST DRAFT YET MADE WILL BE SOME TIME IN JULY.

The local examination board has been notified that the next call from Christian county will be for colored men and the quota will be 200. The exact date has not been fixed, but they will go some time next month. There are about 300 colored men still in Class one and only about 45 white men. This is the largest single draft made so far.

Another call will come soon for white men, but this will probably not be made until Class one has been recruited by reclassifications.

CUNNINGHAM-FEARS

At the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. E. B. Fears, at 10:30 yesterday morning, Miss Lucile E. Fears was married to Mr. Fenton S. Cunningham.

Only a few intimate friends and relatives were present. There were simple floral decorations. Mrs. L. E. Foster played Mendelssohn's wedding march as the young couple came down the stairs into the hall way and entered the parlor, where the ceremony was pronounced by Dr. Lewis Powell, of the Methodist church.

The attendants were Mrs. Arthur K. Goodwin and Misses Lula May Miller, Ruth Cunningham and Frances Ledford, who preceded the bride couple. They were married with the ring ceremony.

After congratulations and good wishes by those present, the young couple left at once by the Illinois Central railroad for a brief wedding trip. They will be at home next week at 1457 South Main street.

The bride is the only daughter of the late Edwin P. Fears and inherited her father's interest in the furniture store of Keach & Fears, to which she gives her active and personal attention. She is a bright, capable and thoroughly efficient young business woman whose many lovable traits of character have made her the center of a large circle of admiring friends. The groom is a young soldier who saw service in Co. D on the border, but was discharged from Camp Shelby last fall on account of illness. He is a linotype machinist-operator in charge of a machine in the Kentuckian office. He came from Cadiz several years ago to accept a position with the Kentuckian. He is a representative of one of the most prominent families in Trigg county and is a sterling and popular young man.

(By International News Service.)

London, June 27.—For the first time openly repudiated in the Reichstag by the head of the Foreign Office, the German military chieftains, it is believed, are feverishly preparing to strike one more gigantic blow to disprove Von Kuhlmann's sensational assertion that a military decision alone cannot bring the war to an end. Once more a life and death struggle is on between diplomacy and the mailed fist, and militarists this time are faced by odds which no amount of promises, but crushing deeds alone, can overcome. Since the last twenty-four hours has brought no major infantry actions fronts speculation has held full sway either on the Italian or Western

GOVERNOR A. O. STANLEY
Of Kentucky

In testimony whereof, I have caused these letters to be made patent, and the seal of the Commonwealth to be hereunto affixed. Done at Frankfort, the 17th day of June, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and in the one hundred and twenty-sixth year of the Commonwealth.

A. O. STANLEY.

the Governor.
JAMES P. LEWIS, Secretary of State.
By E. MATT KARR, Assistant Secretary of State.

WHEREAS, The material needs of the Government for the successful prosecution of the war are enormous and the only resources of the Government is the property of the people. This can be reached by taxation or by volunteer contribution. Both are necessary to assure success. In addition to the payment of taxes imposed by the nation at this time, each citizen should be willing to practice every character of self-denial. Our smaller savings can best be invested in War Savings Stamps. The people of this Commonwealth are asked to invest in these stamps. Similar allotments have been made to other States, and the President has called upon the people of the various States to indicate their willingness to practice the patriotic self-denial required of all of us, during the remainder of this year. This State has always responded to every call, and I feel assured in this instance it will not be found lacking.

THEREFORE, I, A. O. Stanley, Governor of Kentucky, hereby proclaim Friday, June 28th, 1918, as WAR SAVINGS DAY, for the State of Kentucky, upon which day all persons shall give their pledges for War Savings Stamps at such times and places and in such manner as may be appointed by James B. Brown, War Savings Director for this State, acting under the authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, and pursuant to the proclamation of the President of the United States.
